Finland is one of the resettlement countries admitting quota refugees and the Parliament sets the annual refugee quota.

The Ministry of Interior in cooperation with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Economic Affairs and Employment prepares a proposal for the territorial allocation of the refugee quota for the Government.

Finland admits persons recognised as refugees by the UNHCR in need of international protection and resettlement.

Finland-bound quota refugee must fulfill the requirements of the Alien’s Act’s section 92.

The Finnish authorities (SUPO - The Finnish Security Intelligence Service, Migri – The Finnish Immigration Service, and experts on integration) interview the majority of the quota refugees suggested for Finland for resettlement during a selection mission in the country where the refugees reside (country of first asylum).

Finland admits urgent emergency cases selected solely on a dossier basis, usually the urgency is caused by the health or safety conditions facing the refugees.

A 3-4-day long training about moving to Finland and the Finnish society is usually organised for Finland-bound quota refugees, with interpretation or in the native language. The training also includes Finnish language lessons. IOM and Diakonia University of Applied Sciences implement the cultural orientations under Migri’s lead.

Municipalities decide independently whether they will admit quota refugees.

Finland-bound quota refugees are assigned their municipality of residence, i.e. one cannot choose one’s locality.

Quota refugees arriving in Finland move directly to the municipality, not to a reception centre.

Migri in cooperation with the ELY Centres (the Centre for Economic Development, Transport, and the Environment) allocate the quota refugees to municipalities having an agreement with the ELY Centre about municipal placements and a municipal integration program.

Municipal placement means that the ELY Centre and the municipality have agreed that the municipality provides quota refugees with their first rental apartment.

The government of Finland reimburses costs for admitting refugees to the municipalities (imputed reimbursements and actual costs).

Imputed reimbursements are intended for measures supporting integration stipulated in the municipal integration program. These include e.g. social and medical services, cultural and leisure activities and services promoting inclusion.
